TWO BOYS DROWN IN RANCH RESERVOIR

RICHMOND GIRL DIES OF FEVER AT SANTA ROSA

Investigation by Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison at Santa Rosa disclosed that Nona Williams, 20, ward of the Juvenile Court at Peoria, Illinois, and under the supervision of County Probation Officer T. A. Boyer had died of typhoid fever in a hospital there as reported to Boyer by an Indian, White Elk, who claimed to have married her about a year ago. Identity of the body was made by Miss Alice Erickson, of Richmond and Captain of Police Shirley of Richmond. Two doctors who attended the girl issued a certificate of death from typhoid fever. White Elk, who was an entrant in the recent Redwood highway marathon from San Francisco to Grants Pass, Oregon, at Santa Rosa told several stories of his marriage to the girl. He told the undertaker, who had the girl's body that he had married her at Salt Lake City, February 2, 1925, and another official that he had married the girl at Hamilton City. The girl went to Ole Tobiasson, July 4 as a nurse to Ole Tobiasson, 151 Eighth street, Richmond, but disappeared a short time after her arrival there. Upon her death it was disclosed that she had been in the company of White Elk. She is said to have been married in the middle west to a man named Landis before coming west about a year ago in the company of Seth Mallot. The man for a time was held for investigation by federal authorities but subsequently was released. The body may be shipped to her father, Fred L. Williams, a telephone operator in Peoria, Illinois, who has requested information from the Richmond police.

New Location Of Actor Will Be In Prison

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Cullin Landis, film actor, will be "on location" in the jail for five days. Failure to keep up alimony payments of $350 a month to his former wife, Mignon Lebus Landis brought a contempt of court sentence, which was imposed by Judge Robert H. Scott. It was testified that Landis, although he had earned $17,000 since last November, was more than $1000 in arrears in alimony payments.

DEATH TOLL OF 7 AS RESULT OF WILD OUTING

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Death, hydra-headed, ended the thrill ride of seven youths and girls in the darkness of the small hours this morning. Isadore Goldberger, 16, Theodore Humes, 15, and Ruden Dietrich, 15, all high school boys, are dead. Another is probably fatally injured and two girl companions are in a serious condition. One of the youths in the party, police said, told the others that the car, which in reality had been stolen, had just been bought by him. The party was returning from a beach dance hall at terrific speed, with Betty Peck, a student at the musical college of the university of Southern California, at the wheel, police reported. The girl, it was said, is an inexperienced driver. In an effort to avoid a collision, the car leaped a curb and crashed into a frame real estate office. Both car and building were demolished.

Permits Issued By Inspector For 3 New Buildings

Building permits for cottages totaling $13,000 in value were issued by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley during the last two days. Frank E. Tiller will erect a cottage and garage on the west side of Dimm avenue between Barrett and Roosevelt avenues at a cost of $6000. Parson and Schuster are the builders. A. R. West was issued a permit to build a cottage and garage on the west side of Thirty-fifth street between Esmond and Garvin avenues, at a cost of $3000. Lowell R. Sears will erect a cottage on the west side of Thirty-sixth street, north of Roosevelt avenue at a cost of $4000.

Cities Prepare To Combat Raise

NAVY OPPOSES CONSTRUCTION OF S. F. BRIDGE

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, July 13.—Unyielding opposition to the construction of a bridge across San Francisco bay north of Hunter's Point was recorded today by Secretary of the Navy, Wilbur in accepting the report of the Navy General Board which turned down the application of the San Francisco supervisors for a bridge from Rincon Hill to Alameda. Secretary Wilbur transmitted to Secretary of War Davis in whose department jurisdiction over bridge permits lies a letter in which he asserted that the requirements of the national defense demands that no bridge construction north of Hunter's Point should be allowed. The communication by Secretary Wilbur urged that the War Department policy announced October 7, 1921, opposing any bridge construction in the upper bay, should be adhered to. In view of the fact that Secretary Davis announced just before leaving for Europe last week that courtesy to the Navy Department would compel him to endorse the navy's recommendations respecting the San Francisco permit, it is probable that Secretary Davis will consider it necessary to reject the application.

In that event friends of the bridge project are prepared to carry the matter to Congress and demand the passage of a resolution authorizing the bridge over the opposition of the war and navy departments. Secretary Wilbur's letter to Secretary Davis makes it apparent that he is governed largely by the fear that the nation may become involved in war and that an assembly of all the warships of the United States fleet in San Francisco harbor will be necessary. His report stresses the fact that construction of a bridge at the site desired would interfere with the navy departments.

Gold Ore Assay Shows Value Of $100,000 A Ton

(By Universal Service)
SAN LUIS OBISPO, July 13.—Samples of high grade ore discovered one mile west of Templeton and 25 miles north of here are being shown today by William O'Hagan. A specimen of the gold quartz has been assayed and it is said to be worth $100,000 a ton. The discovery was made on land owned by J. R. Casper. Children of the Casper family picked up the gold quartz from a pile of rock being dug out near the house.

SECOND FLIGHT TO HAWAII TO BEAT RECORD

OAKLAND, July 13.—Ernest Smith's silver monoplane, "The City of Oakland," was groomed tonight for its take-off from this airport between 8 and 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for Hawaii on the first leg of what is hoped to be a two-hop trip to Hawaii and return to the mainland. Emery Bronte will be Smith's navigator. Smith's plan to fly back to the United States in the event he reached Hawaii safely was announced today by Captain William Royle, his flight manager, and Anthony Parente, his financial backer. The air voyage, if successful, will mean 4800 miles traverse over the ocean. The hop-off tomorrow will be Smith's second attempt. He failed the morning of June 28 after a heart-breaking race to beat the army plane manned by Lieutenants Maitland and Hogenberger when a wind deflector tore loose after he had gone several miles. His navigator, Charles Carter, refused then to accompany him. "We not only hope to beat the army's time to Hawaii by at least five hours, but we also hope to be the only flyers to make a two-way flight," said Smith tonight. The air mail pilot expects to reach Hawaii before daybreak Friday.

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Ernest Smith, civilian aviator, who is scheduled to attempt a flight from San Francisco to Hawaii tomorrow, will be guided by the same radio beacon equipment which aided Lieutenants Maitland and Hogenberger on their flight. The War Department announced today. Orders have been issued to the stations on the Pacific Coast and in the islands to keep their radios in operation.

BOARD MAKES NO CHANGES IN ASSESSMENTS

Assessment rolls for the next year were approved without change by the board of equalization yesterday, after consideration of several protests. The board, composed of the city council, adjourned until next July. Protests were made by: J. H. Behr, on flats at 2223 Barrett avenue. The present assessment value of the flats is $2100, raised from $1400 last year. Behr protested the increase. The board replied that appraisement made several months ago had shown great increase in the value of the property. Dr. Fred J. La Belle, on a 50 foot lot, east of Seventh street. The building valuation had been set at $1500, and a reduction was asked, since no improvements had been made on the frame building under the city ordinance. The valuation was allowed to stand in view of the income received from the buildings. Pacific Union college on lots at the corner of Fifty-ninth street and Highland avenue. The valuation of $402 was considered fair, and consistent with the value of property in the district. Mrs. Rena H. Lauder, on the key lot on Second street, south of Macdonald avenue. The assessment valuation of $410 was allowed to stand.

COMMERCIAL AVIATION

Announcement of the establishment of a coast-to-coast passenger airplane line in the United States is the most recent development of a year of aviation sensations.

The commercial enterprise is less spectacular than the hops of Lindbergh and Chamberlin-Levine to Europe, but it is of equal importance to aeronautics.

To the present, aviation progress has depended upon feeble government patronage and upon expensive private initiative. Preparing Commander Byrd's America expedition alone has cost Rodman Wanamaker half a million dollars to date.

The public now will have a chance to show its interest.

If passenger air lines are well patronized and if profits are shown, aviation soon will reach new altitudes of development.

If there is small demand from the public, all talk about a tremendous immediate growth won't amount to much.

'Twas money made the mare go, back in horse-and-buggy days.

Nothing but money will make airplanes a go in this more modern age.

A BRAVE PASSENGER

Charles A. Levine proves to the world that he is a brave man by announcing arrangements to fly home as a passenger in his famous airplane, the Columbia.

Though one-way voyages by air between this country and Europe have become fairly common this summer, the return trip is one that demands unusual heroism.

Airmen face head winds all the way over. The fogs off Newfoundland make it more difficult to sight land. There is a mental hazard caused by the loss of Nungesser and Coli, who flew to death on the same route.

Levine's decision is particularly courageous in view of the fact that he is not a hardened experienced aviator, but a novice—an amateur at this game of defying fate.

If he succeeds in his daring venture he will surely have earned the tribute of respect that will be paid to him by admiring fellow Americans upon his return.

What it's all about

By PAUL ALLEN

TWO RAILWAY SMASHES ON the same day, one on an elevated line in the city, the other forty miles out on the West Shore. Forty persons, thirty hurt, thirty killed outright. Wooden cars in both cases responsible. How could it be made safe when the public demands that match-box coffins on wheels be replaced by modern steel equipment. In the meantime, if you value your life, avoid wooden cars as far as you are able.

SCIENTISTS HAVE JUST DIS- covered fossils in the Grand Canyon supposed to be 25,000,000 years old. That is almost as old as some of the cars in use on the B. & M. T. line.

THAT WAS A GREAT STUNT the mind reader pulled when he guessed that the court would say: "Five dollars or two years in jail" for violating a traffic ordinance. But a really great mind reader would have guessed that breaking a traffic ordinance would lead him to court.

CLERGYMEN WERE GIVEN complete control over the editorial course of the Arkansas City (Kan.) Daily Traveler for a period of two weeks. The ministers declared that atheism, false evolution, and the publication of crime news were some of the greatest evils confronting our country. One pastor wrote strongly in favor of capital punishment, even quoting Scripture to uphold his case. The experiment showed that their opinion on current affairs as editors do. In the march of the race forward there hasn't been discovery, a simple way of telling the good from the bad course to follow.

THIS WRITER'S OPINION IS that if all clergymen wrote and preached consistently against intolerance, hatred, bigotry, and in favor of mutual understanding and the golden rule they'd be more effective as ministers and editors, too.

MOST OF THE WORLD'S greatest troubles have been due to the disagreements of two sets of people, both of whom were absolutely sure that they were absolutely right and that the other were completely wrong.

Do You Know That—

By MME. HALL-DEANE

The sleeveless frock of pique or linen is the aristocrat of tennis fashions. Very often the women who wear sleeveless frocks for active sports slips on a colorful coat of sweater when the game is over.

Whereas Chanel red was the dominating sports color last year, this year there is no one color that is outstandingly smart, and so the grand stands are a maze of black and white, blue, rose, yellow and lavender.

Worth designs a new bracelet, using metal squares of a gleaming golden color cleverly joined together into a wide, flexible band.

For informal evening affairs nothing so chic takes the place of the simple little frocks of lace and chiffon. The chiffon is softly gathered to make a full, graceful skirt and short bolero, and the lace appears in the form of web-like bands on bodice and skirt.

A pretty sports outfit for Miss Twelve-to Sixteen consists of a sleeveless dress of white washable silk, with colorful suede belt and silk tie and a loose coat of printed linen.

How To EARN MONEY at HOME.

By Sara Spence

What kind of material is used for hooked rugs? Where can it be bought. Is it expensive?

INQUIRE. One of my friends uses straws of silk; another uses worsted; another uses cotton dyed the right shade; another uses silk floss. I would begin on the contents of the rag bag until I got the trick. Tapestry Brussels carpet raveled out makes fairly good hooked rugs.

I can work from my own home. What do you consider a good life? I can sew, make lamp shades, and cook. NO NAME. I am sure you will not recognize your nice letter, but take reply is for you just the same. You are artistic and I would start a "used clothing" business. Buy dresses discarded by the rich and clean them and sell them to those who like lovely things, but can't quite afford them. There is big money in this. One of my friends buys and sells on an average fifteen dresses a day. She clears about $2 on each one. Not so bad!

Please tell me exactly how to start a mail order business? X. Begin by deciding what you want to sell. Choose something dignified—that you won't be ashamed to sell.

Mrs. Sarah Spence will answer all questions on "How to Earn Money at Home." Address her care of this paper.

Girls, Here Is Substitute For Your 'Daily Dozen'

By LADY BEATRICE GREY

The daily dozen in the past few years has become something of a symbol. It doesn't mean so much a dozen different exercises done every day as it means a series of setting up exercises which limber and stretch all the muscles of the body and keep them in good condition.

I can boil the "daily dozen" down to three good exercises, which, combined with deep breathing exercises, will give excellent results. So many of my readers have been writing me lately that many of the exercises are too strenuous for summer workouts.

The three I am going to suggest are good hot weather setting-up exercises.

Here are the big three:—

1. Stand with your feet apart and arms at side. Fling your arms over your head and bend backward, changing your arms backward as far as you can. Then swing your arms forward and bending at the waist, touch tips of fingers to the floor without bending your knees. Straighten your back, fling your arms backward, taking first position. Get a good swinging motion into this alternating the movements to count ten times.

2. Place hands on hips and, with heels together and toes apart, take deep knee bend, fling arms sideways. Keep a good, straight eyemark and you will learn to keep your balance. Stretch knees and raise on toes, replacing hands on hips. Do this, to count fifteen times.

3. Place hands on hips and with feet together, keeping shoulders straight, bend body sideways from the waist. First, left, then right, then front. Alternate, to count twenty times.

End off with another dozen hamed of Circulars in being a picture of the article if possible. To get up your list ask each person to send you three names and addresses. Include a little gift for the service. I know a man who sent every lady a paper of needles in return of three names and addresses. Does that help you?

I am a widow and I can sew. What kind of sewing pays the best? I must make money.

WIDOW. Invisible darning pays best of anything on earth. I do believe I am sorry to condemn your letter because it states the case of so many widows who are capable yet not knowing just what to do.

I have the money to start a gift shop, but I don't know how to start. (Can you help me?) IDLER. I would put a little ad in the paper, just a couple of lines asking some lady with experience to come in with me. She furnishes the experience and furnish the money. Such partnerships usually turn out well.

Mrs. Sarah Spence will answer all questions on "How to Earn Money at Home." Address her care of this paper.

practical. He demands facts, moves and acts very quickly. He is impatient with details and will not stand for a long drawn out theoretical discussion.

The convex faced individual is aggressive, positive, adaptable, and driving, but changeable. He will have many "irons in the fire" at one time.

He should develop constancy and force himself to finish those things he starts to do. He is best suited for exploring, especially seamanship, advertising and transportation.

People with convex faces demand excitement, variety and much attraction, and if they do not get them they will become very impatient and unkind.

LARGE CROWD ENJOY PROGRAM SCOTCH NUMBERS

A record crowd of Scots were on hand at the social evening of the St. Andrew's society of Richmond and vicinity at the Richmond clubhouse last night. Music was the main feature of the program, beginning with a solo "The Monarch of the Forest," rendered by W. J. Thompson, accompanied by his wife. A piano solo, "Tam o' Shanter," was given by Barbara Gaunziarole. This was followed by a solo given by Mrs. James Stewart, accompanied by Mrs. Agnes Scott.

A guitar solo was rendered by William Blackwood, and Peter McCullum gave two readings. Refreshments were served after the program by George Black and W. Wilson.

Then the tables were cleared and dancing was enjoyed for an hour or more. The evening closed with "Auld Lang Syne" sung by the entire crowd.

PUBLISHER'S SON MARRIED IN HOLLISTER

An automobile trip to San Jose and on to Hollister culminated in the surprise wedding of John E. Galvin of Richmond son of J. E. Galvin, publisher of the Independent and Miss Thelma Lorraine Cleaves of Piedmont. The bride's family was planning a trip to Europe and rather than face a separation of a year, the two married quietly and telephoned their families the news.

The couple had been engaged for several months, but the wedding was planned after the bride had spent a year in Europe.

Mrs. Galvin has been a student at Mills college, and it is planned that both the young people will complete their college course. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Cleaves of eastern Contra Costa. Galvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Galvin of Richmond.

LON CHANEY IN STELLAR ROLE AT CALIFORNIA

Thriller of a new kind, the haunting mystery of the motion picture "Blind Alleys," with Lon Chaney in the lead, is now being shown at the California Theatre.

"Mr. Van," playing at the California Theatre, displays Lon Chaney in a new angle to his old role. As is usually the case in the outstanding plays, Chaney uses intricate makeup for an intricate character, but this time he goes beyond his usual portrayal. He invades another race for his character, as the silent, subtle and sinister, mandarin, versed in the knowledge of ages, almost unknown in his insight into human character and his enormous power, pursuing his relentless program of revenge against a family who wronged him.

The dramatic Chaney, in which woman's intuition is aided against the wisdom of the Orient, in a desperate duel of wits between Chaney and Louise Dresser, with the life of her son as the stake, is one of the most astounding pieces of dramatic action ever given on the screen.

The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature is a lavish filmization of the play "Blind Alleys," directed by William Nigh, costar of "The Fire Brigade." It is held in spectacular surroundings, depicting the mysterious Orient, pagodas, gardens, and strange temples of old China are the backgrounds for the gripping drama of life, love and revenge.

The cast is a notable one. Louise Dresser plays the English mother, battling the mysterious Oriental for the life of her son, Renee Adoree, the Chinese daughter, who wrongs Chaney's character, the English son, Claude King as Mui, the old Scottish governor, Anna May Wong, Gertie Olin, Holmes Herbert, Mrs. Wong Wing, and other well known players appear in a great cast in the production.

Other features include "Dizzy Dancers," an Imperial comedy; "Nature's Wonderland," "International News," and Larry Canelo at the organ.

State Ban On Klan Is Asked

PITTSBURG, July 13.—The Federal court here today was asked by five Western Pennsylvanians to issue a perpetual injunction to restrain the Ku Klux Klan from doing business in Pennsylvania.

Answering a suit of the Klan filed against them recently, the five defendants also sought an order that the organization be required to make an accounting for all funds received in this state, and asked that a receiver be named for the Klan.

Attorney Van A. Barrickman, Pittsburgh, Dr. Charles P. Oyer, Williamsburg, Dr. Charles S. Hunter, North Duncansville, Rev. J. P. Strayer, Latrobe, and William C. Davis of Monaca, named in the Klan suit filed the answer today. The Klan on July 1, petitioned the court for an injunction to restrain them from using the same name of the order in their activities, and asked $100,000 damages, alleging that sum represented the amount the Klan lost when the five defendants caused many members to leave the order.

FRESNO BEAUTY ENTERS 102ND DAY OF COMA

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—"Gradual improvement" in the condition of Mrs. Clara Drummond beauty, was reported today by Dr. J. Peacock, chiropractor in charge of her case.

Mrs. Drummond, who is being treated in a bungalow in a suburban district, today entered her 102nd day of coma, resulting from being overcome by gas in her Fresno home.

The "Sleeping beauty," Dr. Peacock announced, is now taking food at regular intervals three times a day. She is also resting naturally and awakening at regular intervals.

"In all, she continues to show gradual improvement," Dr. Peacock reported.

Yesterday it was reported that Mrs. Drummond, for the first time since entering her condition of suspended animation, showed signs of recognizing her husband, Walter E. Drummond.

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Young ladies hankering for screen careers may learn a lot from Priscilla Moran.

Yesterday she sat in Judge W. Miller's court and heard the words that to the ears of the silver sheet are more bitter than death itself.

"Priscilla heard she is considered a 'has been,' that, whereas she once drew $300 a week, she would be lucky to get $200 now in the doubtful event of obtaining an engagement."

And Priscilla, with her screen triumphs behind her and the future dark indeed, is all of eight years old.

Testimony concerning Priscilla's professional standing was given by Fred Schoeder, casting director of the United Artists, in the three cornered fight for the child's custody.

"I think everyone is over-estimating Priscilla's worth in the picture business at the present time," he said. "In my opinion she is at the 'awkward age.'"

Tomorrow Priscilla will now where she is at for almost the first time in her brief career, when Judge Miller hands down a decision awarding her custody.

Witnesses have testified that her late father, L. S. Moran, traded her guardianship to Mrs. Ella Schaber of Tulsa, Okla., as a guarantee for a sum of money advanced to make Priscilla's next picture. It was also intimated that Priscilla was the subject of "Trade and barter" with various screen stars, although, according to testimony, Priscilla's dying mother had pleaded with the father not to "pawn" the child's screen talent.

Three sets of claimants are seeking her custody. Two have agreed, if awarded the child, not to let her return to the screen.

Machine Gun Law Recomes Effective 28th

Legislation which state law enforcement authorities believe will prevent California criminals from utilizing machine guns, in emulation of eastern gangsters, goes into effect July 28. The new act, sponsored by Assemblyman Leonard R. Jacobson of San Francisco at the request of the California Peace Officers' Association, makes it a felony for any person not of the police or military to possess a machine gun. Jacobson states that plans are being made to enforce the statute to the letter in eliminating one of the most dangerous factors in modern gangsters' disturbances.

Navy Opposes

Construction of a new bridge at the mouth of the San Francisco bay, and more especially would prevent a great and sudden sort of the entire city, and at the bay entrance.

He declared that the interests of the National Defense are paramount to the convenience of San Francisco and the bay shore in the matter of transit across the bay.

Summarized, Secretary Wilbur's objections are as follows:

1. That construction of the bridge at "Location No. 1" would seriously interfere with anchorage of the fleet and the free movement of vessels to and from the harbor.

2. That the number of piers necessary to sustain the bridge would constitute a menace to navigation and the strong currents and high winds would increase the possibility of danger from this source.

3. That heavy ships, say a 35,000 ton battleship, might drag its anchor and damage the bridge besides damaging itself.

4. That while the ferries now seriously interfere with merchant and navy shipping in the harbor the substitution of a bridge for such traffic would be more dangerous for the reason that instead of the ferries there would be a group of fixed, permanent, solid dangers to shipping.

5. That the proposed bridge would interfere with access to the dry dock at Hunter's Point.

6. That in time of war the bridge might be blown up by enemy bombs thereby stopping ingress to and egress from the harbor.

Airplanes To Serve Course Dinner On Trip

NEW YORK, July 13.—A complete dining service, including a six-course chicken dinner, will be started tomorrow on airplanes of the Colonial Air Transport company flying between New York and Boston.

The food will be taken aboard in containers and kept warm on electric heaters.

The company plans to extend the dining service to its New York to Chicago run next month.

Lodi—Work started on construction of new city hall here.

4 AMERICANS IN CRASH OF DUTCH PLANE

(Special Cable Dispatch)
PARIS, July 13.—A Dutch airplane, flying from Paris to Amsterdam, crashed this afternoon near St. Omer, and four American girls who were passengers narrowly escaped serious injuries.

The Americans were: Florence Gremstein, 22; Miriam Baker, 21; Marguerite Meyers, 27; Alice Kelyeders, 19.

The names of the four girls were taken by the French police at St. Omer and forwarded to Paris. Owing to the confusion, errors were made in some of the addresses, and confirmation has not been received.

The Americans took the train from St. Omer for Amsterdam. None was hurt. One Dutch passenger suffered minor injuries.

Ape-Man Brains In Early Ages Very Similar

NEW YORK, July 13.—A marked similarity exists between the brain of early man and the ape, in the opinion of Dr. Fredrick Tilney, professor of neurology at Columbia University.

"That there was a definite pre-human stock capable of producing both anthropoid and man, cannot be disputed," he said, adding:

"The ape forefathers of the human race in driving other giant beasts of prey out of the caves or holding them as personal property, gave a tremendous impetus to man's possessive sense and laid the foundation for all those laws of possession which form the core of our entire moral code."

Cotton Boll Presented To The President

RAPID CITY, S. D., July 13.—A cotton boll grown by G. Mont Adams of Texas, said to be the champion cotton grower of the world, was presented to President Coolidge today by Marjorie Harris, champion tin can tourist de luxe.

Miss Marjorie, aged ten, is touring with her parents in a motor house which includes a parlor, bedroom and bath and contains three squirrels and her favorite pet, a Chinese dragon. The Harris are from Point, Tex.

President Coolidge today received Clarence W. Dunbar of Providence, R. I., Imperial potentate, who is touring the country at the head of Mystic Shrine delegation.

Indian Girls To Be Prosecuted

PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—Assistant United States District Attorney McGilchrist in Federal court here today asked that bench warrants, each carrying $500 bail requirement, be issued for the arrest of the twelve Indian girls on the Klamath reservation, indicted yesterday for burning the dormitory in which they lived. They will be brought to Portland and held, pending trial, in some juvenile detention home.

Falls From Tree Breaks His Back

SUISUN, July 13.—Charles E. Roberts, pioneer Suisun valley rancher, fell out of a fig tree on his ranch near here Tuesday and broke his back. The aged man was taken to the Woodland sanatorium, where an operation was performed today in an effort to save his life. A peculiar coincidence is the fact that Walter Scarlett a cousin of Roberts fell a few days ago at his ranch near here and broke the bones in his shoulder.

DEADLOCK ON OVER ARMING OF CRUISERS

(By Universal Service)
Special Cable Dispatch

GENEVA, July 13.—At three o'clock on Thursday afternoon, the naval conference deadlock will be thoroughly and publicly aired.

A plenary session of the conference has been summoned to meet at that time. It has been arranged principally to afford the various delegations to air their views and discuss the various points at issue. It is not believed that the session will make either the break-up of the conference, or its successful conclusion.

The deadlock apparently rests upon differences between Great Britain and Japan, with America willing to accept any compromise that may be arranged between these two nations.

Britain is said to have expressed willingness to accept a limit of 400,000 tons for cruisers, as compared with the original demand for 600,000 tons. Japan, however, refuses to accept these proposals, and is holding out for a limit of 250,000 tons for cruisers for both the United States and Great Britain.

As regards the calibre of cruiser guns, Japan is definitely lined up against Great Britain. Britain insists that only 10,000 ton cruisers may mount 8-inch guns, all others to mount 6-inch guns. Japan, supported by the United States, demands that cruisers with even 7,000 tonnage shall mount 8-inch guns.

In this connection, it is feared that under the British proposals, British merchantmen might mount 6-inch guns, thus giving Great Britain a decided advantage.

It is reported that the British delegates have suggested to the British newspapermen that they stress in their reports the "American insistence upon an exorbitant number of 10,000-ton cruisers." In some circles, this is accepted as a British manoeuvre to shift the blame for the existing deadlock to America.

Hawaii Flyers To Be Greeted In Milwaukee

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The two San Francisco-Hawaii flyers, Lieutenants Lester Matfield and Albert Hogenberger, will arrive in Milwaukee either Sunday or Monday for the public reception being arranged in their honor, the War Department announced today.

The two flyers are to travel by train from San Francisco to Chicago, where they will take a plane to fly to Milwaukee. The plane is a Fokker S-2 which is being flown from Bolling field and will be turned over to the two flyers there.

The famous first pursuit group at Seaford, Del., Mich., which accompanied Colonel Lindbergh on his triumphal tour, will join Matfield and Hogenberger in Chicago and fly with them to Milwaukee three days after which they will fly to Chicago and Dayton and then to Washington.

HORROR STALKS IN QUAKE WAKE AT PALESTINE

(By Universal Service)
NABALUS, Palestine, July 13.—In this, one of the most ancient cities of Palestine, horror stalks. With more than 70 bodies recovered from the ruins of Monday's earthquake and with many dying, survivors are beseeching the rescue parties to exorcise their relatives from the debris.

Knots of people linger about the ruins of their houses looking to the police for help. Thirty doctors are endeavoring to cope with the town's greatest disaster. Constables rushed from all the nearby towns are almost unable to restore order.

Wails of anguish rend the air. Amid the cries of the injured and the wailing of the survivors whose relatives are missing, one hears the poignant shout: "Our City is Destroyed."

Starvation threatens the town. Relief rations from Jerusalem and other cities are inadequate.

Persons with means are fleeing from the town. It is believed that there is little hope of rebuilding the place for barely one house is intact and nearly 200 ruins have been counted.

Only one Christian, one Samaritan and one Jew are among the casualties.

Part of Nabulus is inhabited by a now nearly extinct race of Samaritans, the remaining handful of a once powerful race which centuries before Jesus Christ built a temple on Mount Gerizim which was destroyed.

Air Corps Want New Aviators

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—The army air corps today sent an appeal to corps commanders to select a large number of young officers to qualify as aviators.

It was declared that there are many vacancies in every grade in the air service and more flyers are required to enable the department to keep pace with the five-year aviation expansion bill passed by the last Congress.

EQUAL RIGHTS ARE DEMANDED OF PRESIDENT

Universal Service Staff Correspondent

RAPID CITY, July 13.—President Coolidge today consented to receive here an imposing delegation from the National Woman's party which will appeal to him to throw his "powerful influence" to their equal rights amendment.

"Men and women shall have equal rights throughout the United States and everywhere subject to its jurisdiction," is the text of the proposed constitutional amendment for which the women have pledged themselves to embark upon a campaign as fiery and picturesque as the memorable struggle for the equal suffrage amendment.

Miss Anita Pollitzer of Charleston, S. C., who today completed the arrangements for their reception by the President on Friday, said that in excess of a million dollars has been expended by the women in the past six years, largely for a digest of the state laws "which discriminate against women" she said that a large sum has been pledged for continuance of an aggressive fight and that the usual "campaign of education" will be begun upon the candidates for congress in the national elections next year.

Miss Pollitzer admitted that adoption of the equal rights amendment would erase the minimum wage, forty-eight hour and similar laws that have been enacted in favor of women, but she indignantly repulsed the suggestion that big employers of labor have contributed to the party's campaign chest.

Following the party's national convention in Colorado Springs, a motor cavalcade of the twenty selected to present their appeal to President Coolidge is now en route here through the early suffrage states of the west. Pledges of support have been received already from governors Adams of Colorado and Emerson of Wyoming, Miss Pollitzer announced.

Mother Does Not See Child For 16 Years

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Pretty Mrs. Beatrice Dakin Johnson of San Diego came to Los Angeles today, seeking to establish relations with her supposed mother who has been searching for her for sixteen years.

Radio and press notices sent out by Mrs. Minnie Reinke of Detroit, Mich., are believed to have bridged the wide gap of time and distance. The campaign to find her daughter was a last desperate effort of Mrs. Reinke, who is reported to be very ill.

Mrs. Johnson, not quite certain as to the relationship, said she had believed her mother to be dead.

Her father, she said, had taken her from Detroit when she was very young and had married again, telling her that her mother was dead, Mrs. Johnson said.

Vallejo Line To Have New Ships

VALLEJO, July 13.—The new steamer City of Vallejo to be built by the Vallejo-San Francisco Direct Ferry company is to be equipped with Diesel engines, A. O. Stewart, president of the corporation said today. Plans for the new steamer are now being prepared, according to Stewart. It is the plan to have the craft capable of the City of Sacramento, which is now on the run between here and San Francisco.

The City of Sacramento was formerly the Ashbury Park, and was brought from the East coast by Samuel Sutton and other employees of the old Monticello Steamship company.

MANY FLIGHTS FROM EUROPE PLANNED

(By Universal Service)

CALSHOT, England, July 13.—While Commander Richard Byrd, and his three intrepid companions of the America's epochal flight from New York to France were speeding home on the liner Levant, today, preparations were progressing for other air trips across the Atlantic, from Europe to America.

Captain Frank T. Courtney, the British ace, is ready to start his flight from Clifden, Ireland, to New York, on Saturday, if the weather conditions are favorable. Final tests of his plane will be made tomorrow. He will fly from England to Ireland.

While Courtney's planes are not quite complete, it is thought that he will attempt a non-stop flight but, if necessary, will stop over at Newfoundland.

Courtney took the opportunity to emphatically deny that Charles A. Levine, who accompanied Clarence Chamberlin on the flight from New York to Germany, had offered him $10,000 for a seat in Courtney's plane.

"Levine has made no such offer, nor has he suggested such a thing," said Courtney. "However, if he should make such an offer, I might give it serious consideration."

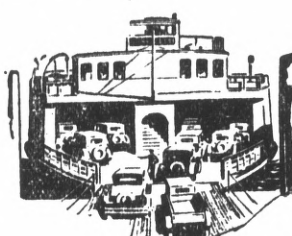

Reports received here from Paris regarding the Levine flight back to New York indicate that the project will materialize.

In a statement today, Maurice Drouhin, the French pilot, said he would pilot the Hellanca plane to New York, with Levine as a passenger.

"I am certain Levine is going back with me," said Drouhin.

The Columbia is now being thoroughly overhauled, with Drouhin supervising the work.

hooked up in a southpaw pitching battle at the First street ball park last night, with the former winning over the Refiners, 7 to 4, chiefly because he pitched better ball than Hal and because the All Standards had their hitting together; whatever they may be.

Sanberg allowed only four hits during the seven innings, and might have held the losers to only a run or two had his mates not fallen down behind him in the field in the third inning, when the Refiners scored all four of their runs.

Dimmock Off Form
Dimmock has turned in some mighty good games for Chick Autry this season, but yesterday the little lefthander had one of his off days. Hal yielded 11 safeties during the encounter and was in hot water continually.

Dode Carson, a chesty little infielder whose confidence in himself would make a Jack Sharkey feel like the possessor of an inferiority complex, gave the All Standards an early lead when he belted the ball over the left field fence in the very first round. And it was not a fluke hit, either, Carson having demonstrated upon previous occasions that he can sock the agate for round trips with the best of them.

Refiners Take Lead
The one-run lead lasted until the third, when the Refiners bunched three hits and two errors for four runs. Autry drew a walk to open the inning but was forced at second by Spot Duncan. The latter went all the way to third on Dimmock's single and tallied when Roberts dropped Hansen's easy fly to right field. Roberts is a very good pitcher.

Bartram gained a life on Carson's error. Dimmock scoring. Red Johnson followed with a single to score Hansen, and Peppin also singled to score Bartram with the fourth run of the inning.

All Standards Rally
With the score 4 to 1 in their favor, everything looked rosy for the Refiners, but Freine's cohorts went right after Dimmock in the same inning to tally five times and take a lead that they maintained for the remainder of the fracas.

After Carson had filed out to center field, Sears started things with a single. Armentrout followed with a single to score Sears and advanced a notch on Huzefka's single. Charley Freine, who has been hitting the ball hard of late, followed with a double to score Armentrout, with Huzefka going to third. Roberts made up for his error of a few minutes before by seeking a fast one over the center field fence for a home run, scoring Huzefka ahead of him. It was one of the longest drives ever hit at the First street lot, the ball going over the fence with yards to spare. Five runs on five consecutive hits!

Johnson Makes Error

Huzefka Is New Leader In Batting

Crashing out two hits in three trips to the plate, Johnny Huzefka, All Standard third baseman, yesterday jumped into the lead in the race for individual batting honors of the Standard Oil League.

Huzefka, who now has an average of .411, displaced Elmer Hansen of the Refiners, who went hitless yesterday and dropped down into fourth place.

Johnson of the Refiners collected a hit yesterday and advanced into third position with a .378 average, a gain of 8 points in a week. The averages of the ten leading hitters follow:

Player	AB.	H.	Pct.
Huzefka (AS)	34	15	.441
E. Fitzgerald	31	12	.387
Johnson (R)	37	14	.378
Hansen (R)	35	13	.371
Zimmerman	27	10	.370
Lane (M)	30	11	.367
Peters (BH)	28	10	.357
Peppin (R)	34	12	.353
Lamarra (M)	32	11	.345
Carson (AS)	37	12	.324

The final All Standards tally came in the fifth. Armentrout drew a free ticket to first and Huzefka fled out to McCoy. Charley Freine was again the fair-haired boy, coming through with a single to send Armentrout to second. Roberts sent an easy fly to center which Johnson dropped in his eagerness to make the throw to third for Armentrout. Red made a quick recovery and threw to second to force Freine, however, with Armentrout ambling on to third. The latter scored a minute later when Cullers hit a Texas leaguer into center field.

GETTING IN STEP

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

They'll Never Answer This One
HARRY WILLS, nemesis of Jack Dempsey while the latter was heavyweight champion du monde, is billed on Humbert J. Fugazy's card at Ebbetts Field against Paulino, the Basque. Tops for the show will be $7.

Dempsey, less than two weeks later, is fighting on a card that will have a top tax of $27.50.

Even in defeat, Wills has never quite caught up with Jack Dempsey. He has always played the tank town, while Dempsey was touring the cities in de luxe style.

Years from now fight fans will become embroiled in heated discussions of Dempsey's merit as a heavyweight.

Just as today we recall that John L. Sullivan always avoided Peter Jackson, so will the fight fans of 1950 recall that Dempsey never met Wills. And always around that avoidance will be the question mark.

Nobody ever will be quite able to solve the reasons for Dempsey's passive refusal to fight Harry Wills. Put the question to Dempsey and he says: "I signed to fight him time and again, but there never was a promoter who'd put it on and take a chance of a race riot."

Technically Dempsey is correct, but you'll find more than one to assert that the fractured ribs which Dempsey suffered in his fight with John Lester Johnson, the only negro he ever fought, cured him of any desire to cross the color line. And yet Dempsey has always had colored fighters for his sparring partners.

Kearns Says Wills Was Clinch
A DEMPSEY-WILLS fight, staged at any time while Wills was being painted as a martyr, would have drawn the greatest gate of any modern battle.

The whole country was interested in it; the ballyhoo had been spontaneous, a reflection of the public reaction to the alleged injustice done Wills.

Tex Rickard could have written his own ticket for this one and the fans would have been glad to pay the freight.

Whether or not race riots would have ensued is something I cannot say. It is conceivable that racial passions might have broken free, for there was intense feeling on both sides. An off-color remark from a white or colored occupant of a bleacher seat during the heat of the battle, might have precipitated a terrible demonstration, for Dempsey and Wills would have been symbols of their color, rather than prize fighters.

I know that I would not have taken a girl to such a fight, on the outside chance that a riot might result.

Jack Kearns says that Dempsey would have whipped Wills and knocked him out, because Wills was past his prime.

"Instead, he broke his contract with me and took on Tunney, a so-called sap," recalls Kearns. "He could have beaten Wills, for Wills showed he had nothing left in the Sharkey fight, but Tunney was a sure thing to beat him."

The discussion has endless possibilities and we will leave it to the fans of 1950 to ponder over and arrive at the correct answer.

Jack Britton Is Back With Dan
JACK BRITTON, once king of the welterweights, is going to try it again. Britton sunk $60,000 in Florida real estate, and the panic nipped him. Now he is going to try to get some dough fighting. Tin Ear Alley says that he is going back with Dan Morgan, the manager who made him. There is something very sad about this renewal of an old relationship. A few years ago both were in the money; now, with age creeping on, they are starting over again.

BENNY LEONARD PICKS SHARKEY TO WIN BATTLE

BENNY LEONARD Sports
NEW YORK, July 13.—A gentleman of the prize ring, smart enough to get out when he had full control of his health, his fortune, and his championship, sat through the super-heated training activities of Jack Sharkey, in Madison Square Garden gym today.

The gentleman, Benny Leonard, had returned but lately from the Jack Dempsey camp at White Sulphur Springs.

"There's a fellow who is a superior boxer," said Benny. "A better boxer than Tunney. If he were to go ahead and box Dempsey, the latter would be certain to get the worst licking of his career. He couldn't help it. I saw Dempsey work. He is pitifully slow. His training plans are calculated to make him look good. They are designed to conserve all the energy possible and on that score, confident that they'll again find the silver lode they once tapped so freely."

BRITTON, when he was Britton, was one of the greatest boxers and ring generals in the game. They say that Mike Mc-

Britton, when the latter was at his brilliant best, Britton was a master boxer, and on occasion, he could sock. Ted Kid Lewis found that out one afternoon in Canton, O., when Britton stretched him out cold. These two fought so often that they could anticipate every blow that was coming. But Lewis didn't anticipate the knockout that was on the way when Britton fainted and created the opening through which his glove crashed to Ted's chin.

Ban Johnson Turns Down $320,000
THE AMERICAN League wants to give Ban Johnson $320,000 and retire him from the presidency of the American League. The dough quoted would be a lump payment of the balance of a ten-year contract he holds. But Ban says he doesn't want the dough, he wants justice. Jimmy Hussey, sitting in the corner, fears that Ban is actually losing his grip. "He must be foolin'," says Hussey, "no man ever turned down that much money and missed a padded cell." Tony Boots makes it unanimous.

BORBY JONES, practicing for the British open, shoots a 68. "It's the British OPEN AND SHUT!" he can do that when the tourney starts," crows Fred Perry, the only Elk City rotarian who ever visited Cuba and made the Cubans like it.

JIMMY SINNOTT, one of Dempsey's closest pals, is back from the Spa. "Looks better than when he knocked over Firpo," declares the gadman. "His mental attitude is great. He kids all the time, and his training proves that the absence of worry has made a new guy out of him." Sinnot is touting Dempsey on a knockout.

SPANISH BOXER USES RIGHT TO STOP OPPONENT

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, July 13.—Paulino Uzcudín knocked out Harry Wills in the fourth round of their scheduled 15-round bout at Ebbetts Field tonight.

Two terrific righthanders on the chin, the first of which dropped Wills for the count of nine, and the second of which stretched him helpless on his back in a corner wound up the contest.

The knockout punch, perhaps the most savage that has rocked against Harry's chin since Sam Langford belted him into submission away back in 1914, wound up no doubt for all time the ring career of the man who a year ago was regarded by many as the most formidable of all the heavyweights.

National League Owners Approve Lively Baseball

NEW YORK, July 13.—The "lively ball" found favor among National League owners in mid-summer session here today.

"It's the best ball we ever had," said President John A. Heydler. "All the owners like it. It makes more outfield work and puts more action into the game."

William L. Veech, president of the Chicago club, expressed a belief that the prevalence of extra base hitting has resulted from weak pitching than from too much "hop" in the ball. He lifted the recent Cubs-Pirates series in which pitching confined the scoring to eight runs for the two teams in three games.

FOURTH YOUTH IS INVOLVED IN SELBY ROBBERY

MARTINEZ, July 12.—Another youth is under arrest in the famous gold stealing case, which has sent two to jail and placed another under probation for a long period. The case is that of the theft of gold from the Selby smelter some time ago and the subsequent theft of the gold from the thief by two youths.

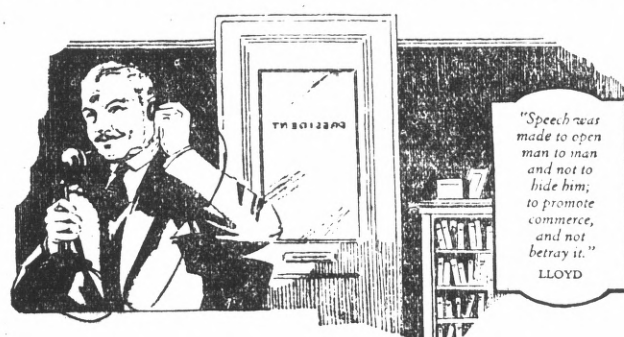

John Piva, watchman at the Selby smelter, who stole the gold originally, is serving a sentence of six months in the county jail. Juan Rodriguez of Torrey was this week sentenced to an indeterminate term in San Quentin for second degree burglary and Gregorio Munoz was placed on probation.

It now develops that the two checks that the youths stole from Piva's room at the time of the gold burglary were given to a Fred Valesante, who subsequently cashed them. Now he is under arrest in San Francisco for a statutory offense, according to a report of Deputy Sheriff J. M. Joseph of Martinez and it is feared of conviction in that case will be prosecuted for forgery here. Valesante, according to Joseph, who has recovered Piva's pay checks, forged the man's name to them and succeeded in cashing them. The checks were for $50.25 and $56.25. They were cashed with E. Bidel, poolroom proprietor of 440 Broadway street, San Francisco.

Veterans Given Preference In Secret Service

Proportion of military and naval veterans is four or five times as great as that of civilians being examined annually for positions under the Federal secret service, Charles L. Snyder, secretary of the Twelfth United States Civil Service district, with headquarters in San Francisco, told the Alameda Veterans' Club recently. In accordance with the intent of the law, veterans are greatly favored by the commission, Snyder asserted. Among the favors accorded the veterans are the waiving of the age limit, the reduction of physical requirements, the addition of five points in the rating of any veteran and of ten points for disabled veterans, and in Washington the waiving of positions regarding the appointment of positions according to the population of the States.

VOICE YOUR THOUGHTS BY TELEPHONE

Value of your voice

THE human voice is the most powerful medium of expression known to man. When talking face to face with business associates, friends, or loved ones, your personality is reflected by your voice, gains attention and carries the weight of conviction.

Distance often stands a barrier to personal contact. Then send your voice with its message—direct, persuasive, accurate—the true reflection of your personality.

Over America's voice highways countless thousands of such messages speed daily.

To the boundaries of the Nation and beyond, by Long Distance—from your telephone.

TOOTH PASTE AND SALES OF STOCK TABOO

Toothpaste and stock sales cannot be mixed, according to an opinion from the state attorney-general's office, rendered yesterday to the corporation commission respecting the sales methods of Walter E. Schwartz, majority shareholder of the Lemorax company, a Nevada corporation, capitalized for $250,000.

Schwartz, an advertising man, was alleged by the commission to have made a practice of giving away shares of stock in the company to substantial purchasers of the toothpaste and was brought before Commissioner J. M. Friedlander. He declared the method was necessary to introduce the toothpaste, and offered to buy out of his own pocket $10,000 worth of the stock to be given away with the product.

The commission asked the attorney-general for an opinion on this new plan, and received this reply from William F. Cleary, assistant to the attorney-general:

In my opinion the whole scheme is but a thinly veiled attempt to circumvent the manifest provisions of the Corporate Securities act, and that any attempt to sell the stock of the Lemorax Company without first obtaining your permit would be a violation of the act.

Gang Fight Is Brewing At Big Camp

CAMP DEL MONTE, July 12.—Word leaked out today that hostilities between the cavalry and infantry groups at the Citizens' Military Training camp, growing out of traditional rivalry between these branches of the service threatened to break out Sunday night, but were prevented by prompt action on the part of camp officers, who surprised the men as they were gathering for the fray, and summarily ordered them back to their tents.

That there may be a recurrence of the outbreak is thought probable however, as a "gang fight" between the doughboys and their mounted brethren is an annual feature of camp life.

Mounted parade at 4 o'clock, with the entire cavalry contingent participating, was the only spectacular feature of today's camp schedule, the remainder of the time being occupied by routine drills.

BEACH CORPSE IS RESULT OF BIG BOOZE FEUD

WATSONVILLE, July 12.—Revelation that the unidentified man whose body was found near here yesterday had been murdered, put officials to work today on the theory that he was one more victim of the rum-runners', bootleggers and hijackers' feuds that have raged in the vicinity for years.

The man was murdered by a blow on the back of the head, a coroner's jury declared in its verdict following an inquest today. The autopsy also revealed that he had been strangled with a rope, probably prior to his death. Although marks of the rope were plainly revealed on the neck, the autopsy surgeons declared that the blow on the head had caused death.

Officials are trying to establish the man's identity in the hope of disclosing the details of the murder and possibly the identity of the slayers.

Only meager clues are available, however. The most promising of these is a label "The Toggery", Herper, Idaho," found in the man's shoes. A plain hand ring on the third finger of the left hand and a fountain pen in a pocket are the only other clues.

The fact that the slayers evidently went to some pains to remove possible means of identification from the body lends additional credence to the theory that the crime was the work of some of the liquor-dealing bands that operate intermittently on lonely stretches of the coast near here.

Pockets of the man's clothing were turned inside out. No labels or markings other than those listed above remained. When the body was found near the Riverside road, the man, had been dead at least a month, in the opinion of autopsy surgeons. Its decomposed state rendered hope of identification remote.
